

CANCER SURVIVAL
STORY TO AIR
ON KISU-TV
ON SEPT. 6

POCATELLO — Idaho Falls/Pocatello PBS affiliate KISU-TV is broadcasting a profound and inspiring story of cancer survival by Pulitzer Prize-winning photojournalist John Kaplan on Tuesday, Sept. 6, at 9 p.m.

Diagnosed at age 48 with a potentially deadly form of lymphoma, Kaplan turned the lens on himself and chronicled his experience in this moving visual journal.

His new film, "Not As I Pictured," is now showing nationwide on PBS stations, including KISU-TV and throughout Idaho.

Also, a humanitarian program is now under way to give away 10,000 free DVD copies of "Not As I Pictured" to anyone affected by cancer.

Viewers can order free copies for personal use at: www.NotAsIPictured.org. Even shipping is free.
